WAWASEE PREPARATORY

SYRACUSE, INDIANA 46567

THE TASK OF EDUCATION

Principal

REV. MARVEN H. TELLERS, M.A.

Rector

VERY REVEREND RICHARD T. JOHN, M.S.

TODAY'S HIGH-SCHOOL STUDENT was born, at the earliest, in 1950. His memory goes back to 1954 at best. For the most part he has not felt the constraining experience of war or depression. He has spent his whole conscious life in an affluent, developing society. He cannot remember not having a TV, putting him in contact with the events of the world each day. While it is true that the world it brings to him is one that is in conflict—conflict between nations, races, generations, yet the conflicts are all associated with growth, against the status quo, against stability.

Likewise the Catholic high-school student does not know the Church before the days of Pope John. The Church he has experienced is one of constant change... a change in the direction of a fuller recognition of individual human dignity on the one hand and a need for immersion in the problems of secular society on the other.

Today's high-school student is preparing for an active life that will project through the 70's and 80's up to the 2020's. If what has happened during the last fifty, twenty, ten years is any indication, the years ahead will see greater and even more rapid changes than did the years just past.

Obviously teaching today's student the tricks with which to confront today's world will not be adequate. Rather his education must give him a sense of familiarity with and comfort in the evolving, yet struggling world he will encounter. His education must help him to find it understandable and to experience it as a dynamic unity with which he feels a thrilling identity.
